PARTNERING TO PROTECT AND EXPAND NATIONAL SERVICE

Voices for National Service is a coalition of national, state and local service organizations working together to build bipartisan support for national service, develop policies to expand and strengthen service opportunities for all Americans, and to ensure a robust federal investment in the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS).

Voices for National Service was founded in 2003 in the wake of a successful campaign to save AmeriCorps from sudden and significant proposed cuts. The national service field organized and launched a successful “Save AmeriCorps” campaign that ultimately restored—and in fact increased—federal funding for CNCS and AmeriCorps within one year. Following the successful 2003 Save AmeriCorps campaign, the national service community established Voices for National Service, a permanent field-based coalition dedicated to protecting and growing the federal investment in national service.

City Year serves as the organizational and operational host of Voices for National Service and the coalition’s work is guided by a Steering Committee of CEOs of service organizations and leaders of state service commissions. The work of Voices for National Service is made possible through membership dues, philanthropic grants and gifts, and annual support from co-chairs and members of Voices for National Service’s Business Council and Champions Circle.

STRATEGIC ADVOCACY, RESEARCH, AND FIELD MOBILIZATION

Voices conducts an intensive year-round calendar of activities, including outreach to public officials, events, communications, and field-building activities aimed at protecting and growing federal funding and public support for national service.

- Engages intensively in the annual budget and appropriations process with the administration and Congress in support of federal funding for national service.
- Generates policy proposals to strengthen and expand national service and establishes advocacy strategies to support them.
- Organizes and implements both broad-based and targeted Congressional outreach activities, including establishing and supporting local organizational coalitions in key states.
- Helped establish and leads the work to grow the National Service Congressional Caucus.
- Commissions public opinion research on national service.
- Commissions and authors strategic research reports and white papers that articulate the return on investment and other unique benefits of federal investments in national service.
- Organizes Capitol Hill and district advocacy days for the national service movement.
- Established and hosts the annual Friends of National Service Awards to honor elected officials, private sector leaders and members of the media.
- Generates strategic communications in support of AmeriCorps and national service including op-eds, news stories, and editorials.
- Operates the Voices for National Service website, social media and action alerts, providing up-to-date and comprehensive information on the status of federal funding for national service.
- Mobilizes campaigns to “Save AmeriCorps” and all programs of CNCS as threats emerge.
VOICES for NATIONAL SERVICE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Fought back potentially crippling funding cuts proposed by the White House to the Corporation of National and Community Service (CNCS), which would have shut down the agency and its programs, including AmeriCorps, Senior Corps, and the Volunteer Generation Fund.

Successfully secured a significant $34 million increase in federal funding for CNCS, including an unprecedented increase of 26% for AmeriCorps, through a powerful campaign that activated thousands to speak out via phone, email and on social media, secured high-level media placements, and mobilized national service supporters nationwide.

Organized the 15th Annual Friends of National Service Awards in Washington, D.C., which honored 15 leaders – elected officials and private citizens – who worked to protect and expand national service opportunities for all Americans; attendees included over 450 national service supporters, alumni, key congressional aides, Corporation for National and Community Service staff, representatives from several federal agencies, and private and public leaders of the national service movement.

Launched a focused state-based campaign to engage and educate members of Congress on the role national service members play in delivering results in their communities and worked with the broader service field to engage members of Congress in their districts and states.

Commissioned public opinion research by TargetPoint Consulting, confirming that American voters across the political spectrum overwhelmingly support investing federal dollars to support national service programs; in fact, 83% of voters want Congress to either maintain or increase federal spending on national service programs.

Hosted events, Capitol Hill Days, and policy forums to engage elected officials in Washington and in their congressional districts to raise awareness about the value of national service.

Commissioned a series of focus groups conducted by TargetPoint Consulting in Virginia and Missouri. The research reinforced our knowledge that there is broad bipartisan support for national service, and provided the field with new communications guidelines to garner stronger support from conservative audiences.
“Voices for National Service is absolutely critical to protecting and growing the federal investment in national service. I have been amazed at the success Voices for National Service has had on influencing local, state, and federal officials in securing support for AmeriCorps, and other national service programs including VISTA, Senior Corps, and the Social Innovation Fund. During my time as the CEO of the federal agency that leads these programs, the Corporation for National and Community Service, I have personally witnessed leading members of Congress, Governors, and Mayors transition from having little knowledge of national service to becoming champion supporters. The work of Voices made this transformation happen. And thanks to its outstanding education and advocacy platform, Voices has helped lead the way to record levels of funding for several programs. That’s great success, especially given these tough economic times.”

– WENDY SPENCER
FORMER CEO OF THE CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

“Voices for National Service is leading the charge on service policy. Their research powerfully demonstrates the value of investing in national service. We are proud to be a member of Voices for National Service and to contribute to this robust community of leaders in the national service field.”

– ELISA VILLANUEVA BEARD, CEO OF TEACH FOR AMERICA

“This coalition has made it possible for our six-city organization to have a voice in a national conversation about the power of social change through service. We are grateful to this coalition for their efforts to bring the national service field together to achieve the common goal of expanding service opportunities nationwide.”

– JIM MCCORKELL, CEO AND FOUNDER OF COLLEGE POSSIBLE

“We need to stand together to expand service opportunities in America. Voices for National Service unites our movement in a single voice to achieve that goal and to enable organizations like FoodCorps to reach more students and communities.”

– CURT ELLIS, CEO AND CO-FOUNDER OF FOODCORPS
Voices for National Service has been at the epicenter of the effort to build strong, bipartisan support among our nation’s leaders for national service.

You can serve in AmeriCorps for one or two years, but the spirit of AmeriCorps lasts for a lifetime.

SENATOR ROY BLUNT

I believe that every young American should be given the opportunity to serve this country, and there are a myriad of ways of serving. What Voices for National Service is about I think is giving Americans an opportunity to do exactly that.

Corporation for National and Community Service
The Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) is a federal agency that engages more than five million Americans in service through its core programs – AmeriCorps, Senior Corps, the Social Innovation Fund – and the national volunteer efforts through serve.gov.

As the nation’s largest grantmaker for service and volunteering, CNCS, with a budget of $1 billion annually, plays a critical role in addressing our nation’s challenges by harnessing America’s most powerful resource – the energy and talents of American citizens – to address pressing needs in the areas of economic opportunity, education, disaster services, environmental stewardship, healthy futures, and veterans and military families.

AmeriCorps engages more than 80,000 Americans in intensive service each year at 21,600 sites including nonprofits, schools, public agencies, and community and faith-based groups across the country. AmeriCorps grants are awarded through a competitive process to organizations and agencies which, in turn, use their AmeriCorps funding to recruit, place, and supervise AmeriCorps members nationwide. Since the program’s founding in 1994, more than one million AmeriCorps members have contributed more than 1.4 billion hours in service across America while tackling pressing problems, mobilizing more than 2.3 million volunteers for the organizations they serve and earning access to $3.3 billion in education awards.

Comprised of three service initiatives – Foster Grandparents, Senior Companions and the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) – Senior Corps provides volunteer opportunities for Americans over the age of 55, enabling them to channel their skills and experience toward strengthening their local communities. Each year, more than 244,000 older Americans participate in Senior Corps. Foster Grandparents support children with special needs. Senior Companions provide independent living services to older Americans, and RSVP volunteers address a host of high-priority issues in their communities. In addition to fulfilling needs in critical areas, participation in Senior Corps provides physical and emotional health benefits to those who serve.

With the simple but vital goal of finding what works and making it work for more people, the Social Innovation Fund and its grantees create a learning network of organizations working to implement innovative and effective evidence-based solutions to local and national challenges in three priority areas: economic opportunity, healthy futures and youth development.
